Yes, let's check and make sure PPM will be getting to the yards. Maybe they could do several and then let you know before they sample or backfill.

Bryant,
 Larry is out at Lard Oil now and will coordinate with Tim and Mike on their excavations. Tentatively, he plans on spending maybe 2 hrs there this morning and 2 this afternoon.
Do you need him to photo-document every residential yard that they excavate? If yes, he'll likely need to stay out there more than 4 hrs today and possibly tomorrow too.

He photo-documented the excavation of the Lard Oil soils and will forward a photo to you a little later when he returns to the office and downloads.

Larry, here are the PPM contacts, just in case you don't have these:

Tim Powers: 225-241-3418

Mike Lockett: 225-505-9294

Taylor Pellerin: 337-303-3115

Thx, -keith

Keith/Larry – I would like Larry to document the excavations before or during confirmation sampling. I have already started getting texts that he is just covering it up with sand.

I sent Tim a message this morning, if we can coordinate schedules, Larry wouldn't have to be out there all day. Maybe an hour or two in the morning and/or afternoon. Have you spoke with Tim or Mike about schedule?

Hi Bryant,

PPM completed the excavation of the rear of Lard Oil, in the bend of (b) (6) (b) (6) on Friday and collected 3 confirmation samples for analysis. They also collected 5 confirmation sediment samples from ditches in the neighborhood, focusing on the intersections of (b) (6) streets. They did not work Saturday through Monday.

Today, they will excavate and confirmation sample the ditch(es) immediately adjacent to the rear of the Lard Oil facility and then begin the same at individual residential properties.

Would you like for Larry to go back out and monitor activities TODAY? How often would you like for him to be out there the remainder of this week?

Thanks, -keith

GM Keith, I was wondering if the EPA wanted us to monitor PPM until they have completed all excavation ops?
